

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical or religious document. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words appearing to be in a different script or dialect. The ink is dark and the handwriting is somewhat stylized. The text is located in the upper right portion of the page, above the ship illustration.
